IS IT A BLUFF?

The President's Sharp Rejoinder to Lord Salisbury's Reply.

Force to Be Employed in Policing
Behring Sea.

A CATEGORICAL ANSWER DEMANDED TO A PLAIN QUESTION.

The Negotiations Have Now Reached a Crisis—General Belief That England Has Refused to Renew the Modus Vivendi—Another Demand Said to Have Been Made—The Note Creates a Sensation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 23.—Among the President's earliest callers this morning was Gen. W. F. Foster, who is assisting him in the Behring Sea negotiations. Gen. Almon S. Sherman, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations. One of the questions under consideration was the advisability of transmitting to the Senate of the correspondence that has passed between this country and Great Britain, as this point will have a most important bearing on the Senate's action on the pending treaty of arbitration. It is broadly estimated that an implied disposition on the part of Great Britain to resume the negotiations by this government with vessels flying the English flag engaged in pelagic sealing in Behring sea would undoubtedly result in the reflection of the country in its present form. The correspondence of the British Ambassador, or twice the first Lord Salisbury, was based on a note of the 1st and a reply from the President, dated yesterday. Neither of the notes is of great length. After the conference the Senator withdrew and went to the Senate chamber.

The Secretary Pruden appeared in the Senate immediately on its assembling with a message from the President on the Behring sea matter. This morning the Lord Salisbury to the note of the 1st inst., responded on Sunday together with the response thereto forwarded to Lord Salisbury by Sir John Launder Pauncefort yesterday afternoon.
The Correspondent has been transmitting to the Senate the notes of the 1st and of May 5 as the date for holding the State Convention. Mr. Blaine, Senator Kellogg has gone to Louisville.

BRIEF NOTES.

Gov. Peck of Wisconsin has written to the Jefferson Dinner Committee of the Young Men's Christian Club to say that he finds it impossible to attend the club's annual dinner on March 18, because he is in Jefferson's birthday, owing to previous engagements.

Republican county conventions were held at Altona, Blair County, and Huntington, West Virginia, on Saturday. The conventions endorsed the administration of President Harrison and instructed their delegates to support him.

The Virginia State Republican Committee has fixed upon Roanoke as the place and May 5 as the date for holding the State Convention. Mr. Mahone presided.

MENY WINNS.

RESULT OF THE LOUISIANA DEMOCRATIC PRIMARIES.

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 23.—The election yesterday passed off very quietly. New Orleans voted for McEnery 11,322 start in the race.

The Times-Democrat this morning says editorially: "Not only has the Crescent City declared in favor of the Governor, but all that has yet been heard from the parishes indicates that instead of New Orleans' majority for McEnery, it is safe to assume that the majority will be increased by the vote. There is thus a practical certainty that the McEnery ticket will be elected by a majority which will be at least 30,000 and is more likely to be 40,000."

The New Orleans says: "There is reason to doubt that the primary election yesterday was a regular one. The returns from the parishes indicate that the McEnery ticket was elected by a majority of 30,000, while the returns from the city show a slight majority for the McEnery ticket. The question is whether or not the McEnery ticket will be elected upon the strength of the parishes' returns."

READY FOR THE GOVERNOR.

The Columbia University Bill Passes
the Senate.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 23.—The Senate-to-day passed the bill providing for the rebidding of the University at Columbia, and it is now ready for the signature of the Governor. The bill appropriates $40,000, which together with the $30,000 donated by the citizens of Columbia and the insurance, makes $37,000. There is no doubt but that the next General Assembly will be authoritative in this amount as it will not be sufficient to rebuild and equip the University as it should be.

The Senate-to-day voted to postpone the bill until the next session, and to recall it on the first day of the new session.

The bill was referred to the Committee on

TWO MORTAL FOES.

All New York Awaits Tidings of Drayton and Borrows.

THE MAJESTIC, ON WHICH THE MEN SAILED, SIGHTED OFF SANDY HOOK.

Friends Go Out on Tugs to Meet the Ship Officers Sent to Board the Incoming Steamer and Prevent Bloodshed—The Vow Made by the Wronged Husband's Relatives.

NEW YORK, March 23.—At 2:30 p.m. to-day the big steamship Majestic, having on board J. Coleman Drayton and Hallett Alsop Borrow, the gentlemen whose professed anxiety for a duel has been the subject of much talk here, will be sighted off Sandy Hook. It will require several hours' time to communicate with the steamer, learn what has transpired during the voyage and get the news to the city.

A cousin of Mr. Drayton had his chartered tug lying off Quarantine even before sundown yesterday and made little secret of his determination to avenge his relative in case he suffered at the hands of the two men. Mr. Borrow's friends are equally determined, while club men all over the city are unanimous in the opinion that the principals must meet or forego all claims to justice at any cost. The French Consul, the French Ambassador and the French Minister of Justice are here, and Drayton had forfeited his right to demand satisfaction if not accepted as binding, having been made ex parte and on a hypothesis which assumed as a fact matter material and disposed of. The fear is that a quarrel may be precipitated that the agents of the White Star Line will be strong enough to determine to board the steamer at the earliest moment. They will be taken down on the mail boat. It was rumored last night that the General Manager would swear out process for the arrest of Drayton, but he was not seen on the boat.

This Manager denied, but it is known that the line is determined to have no second thoughts about their ship and will take extraordinary precautions at their pier.

It is quite possible, however, that Drayton may be taken off in a special boat. A lawyer, who has been retained by the family, applied to the Collector yesterday for permission to take aboard a passenger, who, it is believed, is Drayton. Neither the lawyer nor the Collector would say who the party was, nor whether it required a search warrant. Whatever the Astors can do, however, to hush the matter up will be done.

The lower bay is alive with tugs having on board men from the Astor Club, the most recent developments, and, if necessary, their friend of the Astor family, applied to the Collector yesterday for permission to take aboard a passenger, who, it is believed, is Drayton. Neither the lawyer nor the Collector would say who the party was, nor whether it required a search warrant. Whatever the Astors can do, however, to hush the matter up will be done.

THE SCANDAL OF NEW YORK.

There was a great stir in the city this morning at which the probable arrival of the Majestic was the chief topic of discussion. The arrival of the steamship during the last ten years has attracted more universal interest.

In every street everywhere the arrival was the topic on every tongue. Opinions seem to be divided as to what has taken place since the departure of Borrows since the Majestic sailed. Women, as a rule, declare matters must have been brought to a head, while men, as a rule, declare the Majestic reaches Quarantine she will have more or less of a tragedy to report.

The arrival of the Majestic, to-day, is the second, on board as a strong point in favor of this opinion. A club man, who knows all about it, said this morning: "In my opinion, if there is ever going to be any blood shed in this case, it will be at the pier of the Astor Club." Several newspapermen there are at least twenty more, all bearing interested friends.

THE STORY OF THE SCANDAL.

A brief review of the events which brought about the present trouble between J. Coleman Drayton and Hallett Alsop Borrow is necessary to a clear understanding of the case.

Mr. Drayton, a young man of 26, and Mrs. William Astor of New York. Ten years ago she married young Drayton, who is prominent in New York society, sometime after the marriage, Drayton's wife left him, voted adulterer, it is said, of Mrs. Drayton. This led to an estrangement between the husband and wife, and Drayton, who was apprised of the facts as alleged by her son-in-law, and it is said a truce was patched up, but Drayton's wife left him again in favor of the wronged husband. Mr. and Mrs. Drayton signed an agreement to live apart. The wife, however, left him, and Drayton's wife, now Mrs. Drayton, aged 40, and 15 days.

Funeral will take place on Thursday, March 24, at 2 p.m., from residence, 1919 East Grand Avenue, to Calvary Cemetery. Friends invited.

Our darling is gone to be no more,

She seems so hard that we must part

With one that's dearest to our heart.

Nor did we think that she so sweet

So soon would cause us all to meet.

To stand around the bed of death

And see her last expiring breath.

And when she died, her life has come

But he that death all things could not Make us submit to his will.

The hand of death has left its touch

Upon the cold marble bier,

And our darling babe we loved so much

In the cold grave sleeping now.

THE LAW.

Sec. 1247 of art. 4 (on dramshops) of chapter 37 (on revenue) of the Revised Ordinances of the city of St. Louis:

No person or copartnership of persons or corporation shall in this city, directly or indirectly, in person or by another, sell, barter or deliver, for or on his or their account, any intoxicating liquors in quantities less than one gallon without a license first obtained therefor, according to the provisions of this article, as a keeper of a dramshop.

Sec. 1433 of art. 4 (on dramshops) of chapter 37 (on revenue) of the Revised Ordinances of the city of St. Louis:

The Collector shall not grant a license to any person who has ever been convicted of a violation of any of the provisions of this article.

THE EVIDENCE.

The Pearl Saloon was opened without a license in April, 1891, on the corner of Park and California avenues. The manager, Mr. Beckman, was prosecuted by citizens of the block, among them W. J. Gilbert, the father of M. J. Gilbert, a member of the Grand-jury. The Police Court convicted the manager of a violation of sec. 1247, which is printed above, four times between April and July, and he was fined $100 upon each of the convictions. Yet July 11 Collector Ziegelnhein gave Beckman a saloon license in violation of sec. 1353, which is also printed above.

THE VERDICT.

Grand-jury's report.—In regard to the violation of the law relating to dramshops, referred to by the honorable court in its instructions, we find no evidence from witness appearing before us to sustain any of the charges preferred.

[Signed] G. J. PLANT, Foreman.

Final judgment in the Ziegelnhein case will be rendered by the people.

THE members of the late Grand-jury have our profound sympathy. They are victims of a political "pull."

WHEN Senator HILL withdraws from the presidential race he should be careful to pull his finger out with him.

THE fight against official lawlessness in this town will not be finished until the official lawbreakers are out of office.

THE officials who are abusing their powers to serve personal and political ends must answer to the people for their misconduct.

THERE is no lack of evidence that in the matter of dramshop licenses the late Grand-jury permitted itself to be made the tool of the Ziegelnhein machine.

If the report is true that Senator HILL told his Michigan friends that he cannot be elected to the presidency it affords strong confirmation of the opinion that he is one of the keenest politicians in the country.

THE SUNDAY Post-DISPATCH accepts advertising on a distinct and unequivocal guarantee that its circulation in the City of St. Louis and suburbs is more than double that of the "Republican" and larger than any other Sunday newspaper.

THE defeat of a local option bill in the Iowa House on a party vote shows that the Republican party of that State, despite the attempt of some of its leaders to suppress the issue, is still bound to prohibition. Of course with BOLES on the Democratic ticket the hope of taking Iowa out of the Republican column in the presidential election would be strong, but the prospect of this achievement under any circumstances is bright.

A GRAVE WARNING.

The statements in yesterday's Post-DISPATCH of several members of the late Grand-jury with reference to the Ziegelnhein investigation were remarkable revelations of the ease with which that body was steered out of the line of a duty by political wire-pullers. It is claimed that certain cases of alleged violations of the dramshop law were examined by the jury, but that no evidence to sustain the charges was found. Yet there were other cases in which the fact of the violation of the law was known to members of the jury, but they were not touched. Not a single case apparently of the many which had been made notorious by public protests, and in which good evidence could have been easily secured as the names of the witnesses had been published, was investigated.

It would ordinarily be a puzzling matter to determine how it was that only bad cases were brought before the Grand-jury and good cases were avoided, while witnesses with sound testimony were not permitted to give it. But there is nothing strange about it in view of the fact that Assistant Circuit Attorney ZACHERITZ, an avowed retainer of ZIEGELHEIN, directed the investigation, and was assisted by ZIEGELHEIN's faithful henchman and deputy, WURTZBURGER.

The puzzling thing about this farcical investigation is that twelve citizens could be found who would consent to be pulled around by the nose to do the work of a disreputable political combination, who would permit themselves in the exercise of a high public trust to be made the tools of tricksters for the purpose of bamboozling the people in the interest of a spoilt machine.

The disgraceful fact affords a striking warning to the people of this city of the power of the political forces which, through official lawlessness and the abuse of governmental machinery, are sacrificing public interests and popular rights to encompass selfish ends.

Another column Senator McGINNIS shows that his submission to Boss FILLEY dates back to the result of the election of 1888. So long as there was a prospect for the triumph of the Silk Stocking revolt and for the suppression of FILLEY, Senator McGINNIS believed and repeated all the charges the Slacks made against the boss. But when he saw them take it all down and win a great victory, he had to do with the collector, or, rather, with the collector who was in the hands of the law.

When Mr. Gilbert went on the Grand-jury took an oath to do his duty to the people without fear or favor, and if he did not the collector who was in the hands of the law knew it.

Mr. GILBERT'S SALOON FIGHT.

Last January President W. J. Gilbert, the father of the Grand-juryman, asked his attorney to bring an action to expose an outrageous violation of the dramshop law by Collector Ziegelnhein. Mr. Gilbert then told the story of the Pearl Saloon, which had been taken over by the collector, and of the corner of Park and California avenues in plain evasion of the law. The Pearl Saloon, Mr. Gilbert said, was opened last April without a license. The Griesedieck Brewing Co. owned the saloon and had a majority proprietor in that section of the city. The collector, he said, had come to him and asked him to grant a license to the saloon, and he had done so, but he had been prevented from doing so by the collector, who had threatened to sue him if he did not do what the collector had wanted.

TRICKS OF TALMAGE.

Sensational Charges by a South Dakota Minister.

ABERDEEN, S. D., March 23.—The Rev. Philip E. Holp of Watertown, S. D., has created widespread comment by a lecture entitled: "Talmage and His Tricks." After paying high tribute to Mr. Talmage's genius, he makes the following charges: "On March 10, 1878, Talmage produced a sermon on, 'Shall We Know Each Other?' in which there were seventeen points or thirteen different thoughts from 'Harrington's Heavenly Recognition,' a book published in 1854. He forgot to give credit. I feel sure that in these years Talmage has not produced a single sermon equal to his first sermon one of his tricks. In 1878 he preached on the 'Midnight Horseman.' In 1879 he preached the 'Miracle of the Head and the Heart.' In 1881 he preached on 'Christ and Song.' In 1882 he called the same sermon 'Song and Christ.' In 1883 he gave the 'Upper and Nether Springs.' In 1889 the same minister, 'New Springs of Jerusalem.'

DEVOT & FEUERBORN.

Found in a Bottle.

ANGLESEY, N. J., March 23.—Yesterday while gunning on Dog Island, about two miles above here, Capt. Samuel Chance found lying on the strand a glass bottle containing money and tightly corked bottle. On breaking the bottle, it was found to contain $15 in paper money with the following words hastily scrawled on a piece of wrapping paper: "I have no name, and I have no right to use this money as my own. We are sinking, death stares us in—"

Had the bottle been off and there is no signature, neither is the name of the vessel given. The bottle had the appearance of having been in the water for a long time.

"To be well gloved is to be well dressed"—an old English proverb and a true one. For the nearest realization of its meaning see the advertisement of the celebrated "P. & P." Kid Gloves.

A Minister's Request.
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 23.—The will probated of Rev. F. J. Perce of Monmouth, N. J., leaves an estate of $200,000 to Lincoln University of Oxford, Chester County, Pa., for the purpose of educating colored men of the ministry, and in case no sufficient number of such men are found, the sum to be used for ministry, then the institution shall apply the funds for the payment of the expenses of education of colored men, and also for any who may wish to become missionaries to Africa, under the direction of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Affairs.

Boonville District Conference.
CAMPBELL, Mo., March 22.—The Boonville District Conference of the M. E. Church South convened in this city yesterday (Monday) afternoon, presided over by Bishop Hargrove of Nashville, Tenn. Some thirty ministers and lay delegates of the district are present. Many of our city were favored last night with a solemn service, and the conference held every forenoon, afternoon and night. Rev. Thomas W. Palmer, of the Missouri State Convention, and Dr. Palmore, of the St. Louis Christian Association, represented their work this afternoon, and the subject of the conference was the literature and Christian education were discussed.

Dr. Bateman Resigns.

GALESBURG, Ill., March 23.—Dr. Newton Bateman, who was elected as President of Knox College, and John C. Nichols, of the New York State Board of Charities, has been chosen as his successor. Dr. Bateman resigned on account of age and ill health.

SCROFULOUS SORES.

Lady Badly Afflicted Three Years Tries
Many Doctors Here and in England Without Benefit.
Cured by Cuticura.

My wife having suffered from Scrofulous sores on the back for three years, and at times she could not lie down at night, and she tried all the doctors I could get, and went to England to be cured, and there, and all the so-called great physicians, could do nothing for her; and having tried every kind of remedy, she had tried one box of your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and her back is as clear as any person living, and her health is as good as any person living, and as the only one I could get to effect a cure. G. W. JONES, Constable, 25 Bayley street, Cleveland, O.

Scrofulous Ten Years.

I had a running sore in my ear of a scrofulous nature for ten years. Had been treated by several physicians, but obtained no relief until tried CUTICURA, which healed in a few days. This was more than three years ago and I have been well ever since. I consider your CUTICURA REMEDIES as the only one I could get to effect a cure.

Mrs. H. E. STODDARD, Scutterwood, S. D.

Being in the name,

THE DIFFERENCE

In the Clothing.

There is only one firm of Browning, King & Co. making and selling Clothing, consequently there is an absolute distinction in the name.

Then as there is only one firm making the B. K. & Co. Clothing, it must be all of one kind, and there is just where there the difference comes in. It is all of one kind, and that is the best kind.

Fellow-sojourner in this vale of tears, and tell me, were they not halcyon days, when your mother at the head of the "Slipper Brigade" attacked you from the rear? They were happy days, indeed, and many a time since, when the world was against you, you've wished yourself back across that same loving knee, "listening to the patter of the shingle."

YOU were not buying your SPRING SUITS and OVERCOATS from HUMPHREY'S then, AS YOU ARE NOW.

You were not particular about your pants bagging at the knees so long as you got all the jam on your bread you wanted. But, of course, you have grown to man's estate, and it is our pleasure duty to serve you as the Leading Fashionable Clothiers, Hatters and Furnishers of St. Louis.
